The Alazan, our flagship Pinot Noir, is lively and delicious, with a depth that compels one to pause and to savor. The hillside on which the grapes for Alazan are grown has a micro-terroir rich in clay, supporting a structured wine with a creamy mouthfeel and fruitiness. When drinking this wine, you'll initially be greeted by notes of macerated cherries and fresh blueberries while the earthy finish evokes baking spices and sweet herbs. This medium to full-bodied wine is very textural with great structure and tension. Enjoy with a variety of pastas or a mushroom ragú.
